Jumpstart Wireless DispatchSuite is a complete wireless business application available on the BlackBerry Wireless Handheld. It gives the user a rich integrated set of programs for tasks like field service dispatch, delivery, inspection, time sheets, location tracking, maintenance tasking, etc. and provides inexpensive application tailoring allowing DispatchSuite to meet the exact needs of an individual customer. It integrates easily with existing business software and uses the GPS features of the handheld to monitor and track the location of workers.

DispatchSuite is usually self-funding in just a few months! This value comes from a reduction in paperwork required to manage work orders, routing tickets, freight orders, etc. It frees up resources currently being used to handle paperwork, key in field data, and track field staff, and it reduces data entry requirements by automating the dispatch, status reporting, and work order completion processes. It also simplifies scheduling because office staff know where the field staff is and what they are doing and it reduces the occurrence of voice status checking, as well as errors and omissions.

- Paper forms can be eliminated as with the display on the BlackBerry handheld electronic forms can be generated that will replace the manual and intensive existing processes.
- The application can meet a broad range of business requirements as it can be tailored to meet the needs of each prospect.
- The application increases the productivity of workers as it is easy to use.
